Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Seeley.

The vending machine for vending regulated products and method of only permitting authorized users to use the vending machine disclosed by Seeley includes all the claimed features and in particular includes: (claims 1, 3, 7, 11) a money validation unit for receiving and validating money, an identification card reader for reading an identification card (column 6, lines 32-37); a biometric characteristic scanner J for reading an actual biometric characteristic from a person standing in front of the vending machine (column 7, lines 20-25); a system controller I for enabling the vending machine to vend the regulated products only after a proper fee has been deposited and data read from the identification card is compared to the actual characteristic read by the biometric scanner (column 7, lines 5-36); (claims 2, 8, 12) the biometric characteristic scanner J being one of a fingerprint scanner, retinal scanner, or a voice analyzer (column 7, lines 20-25); (claims 5, 9, 13) the vending machine vending a product that can only be sold to potential users over a predetermined age as broadly claimed in that the vending machine of Seeley is capable of distributing music, pictures and/or video material all of which have age limitations with regard to certain content; (claim 4) the step of enabling the vending machine only after a potential user has deposited a predetermined fee in the money validation system; and (claims 6, 10, 14) the vending machine vending pre-purchased products that are to dispensed only to a potential user who pre-purchased the product in that stored works/products can be registered for and paid for in advance (column 7, lines 50-54).

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The following are cited to show the art with respect to vending machines having means to identify authorized users: Gerety et al., DiMaria et al., Hartsell, Korman et al., DiMaria, Maloney et al., Sharrard, Blechl et al., and Isobe et al.
